A big success.

The opening of the new department of China and Glassware and Housefurnishings has met with instant success. All day yesterday there was a steady stream of buyers attracted by the extraordinary prices quoted—and the new venture bids fair to take first rank at the very start. We can easily promise to name prices which are fully 25 to 40 per cent less than for the ever known before. We expect to work a revolution in this line—for our natural buying advantages enable us to give you values beyond all comparison. Today we offer—

Fine decorated china individual butter dishes for—

THE SITUATION IN NEW YORK.

THE OLD WORLD CALLS HER

Miss Barton Will Attend International Red Cross Conference.

REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

The Effect of the American Expedition on the European Societies—
Congressional Action on the Name Red Cross—How It Is Regarded in the Old World.

Miss Clara Barton, president and treasurer of the American National Red Cross will leave the city on the 11th instant for Vienna, Austria, where the fifth international conference of the Red Cross order will be held, beginning the 20th of the month. Miss Barton will be accompanied by Mr. George H. Pullman, financial secretary, and Dr. J. B. Hubbell, general field agent of the American society.

It is only three days ago that these delegates determined to attend the Vienna session, although Miss Barton has attended four out of the five international conferences already held. It is a singular fact that the most important service rendered in recent times by the Red Cross has been by the American society, as, for instance, at Porto Royal and in Armenia. The proceedings of this convention will, therefore, have a peculiar interest for all Americans. The world has already noted the fact that, although there are numerous equipped societies all around the globe, from Japan to the United States, it was the American society that went into Armenia, the birthplace of humanity, and where, strangely enough, humanity has suffered most and most continuously.

Among the interesting items of detail which came with the news from the Glen Echo headquarters of the society was one that Miss Barton would stop in England, in fact, that she had been requested to visit the Queen on route to Vienna.

Miss Barton was called on yesterday at her lovely home in the country, where the president of the Red Cross said a great many things which will interest the people of this country. Not long ago Miss Barton brought the official "Report on America's relief expedition to Asia Minor under the Red Cross." Copies of this had been sent, as is usual in such cases, to the various nations of the world in the Red Cross Society.

This was a fortunate circumstance. It had been reported that America would not be represented this year. It is really a book of rare interest to the American society received immediately letters inquiring on the present of the American delegation. Quite a number of the letters express the highest admiration for the arduous and daring work to the credit of this country in the Armenian troubles. It was desired that the American delegates should appear at the coming international conference, the object probably being to have the story of the splendid achievement told orally in open council.

For the past thirty days the matter of attending has been under advisement, and as Miss Barton said, it was only a few days ago that it was determined to go, this being the first announcement of the fact.

As Miss Barton goes as the official representative of this country, she will make a report to President McKinley on her return, which will be printed before the meeting of Congress.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The Astor villa at Newport was again the scene of social festivity Wednesday night, with Mrs. Calvin S. Brice as hostess. The report above referred to is a neatly printed and well illustrated volume of 123 pages. The illustrations are mostly sketches from the scenes or on the route to the scenes of the American society's labors in Asia Minor. It is a complete history of the expedition, a series of literary and artistic sketches.

Miss Barton denied the report that she was to stop in England. As a matter of fact, she said that no particular route or steamer had been selected.

Mr. James Hentley is home from Atlantic City.

Col. Freeman, who is in charge of the Osage Indian agency at Oklahoma, and Mrs. Freeman are visiting Mr. Thomas B. Smith, Assistant Indian Commissioner, and his wife, who is Mrs. Freeman's sister, at their home, No. 1728 Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Washington McLean will remain at Narragansett until October.

Miss Martha E. Jones, of this city, and Mr. William Mandeville Van Dyke, of Cincinnati, were quietly married yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Griffin Fox. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Louis S. Wood, of the Church of the Epiphany, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke will make their home in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Mary E. Shepley announces the coming marriage of her daughter, Mabel A. to Mr. John A. Butler, Jr. The wedding will take place in the early part of October.

Miss Nannie Preston, the daughter of the director of the mint, is said to be one of the most attractive young ladies at Cape May.

Mrs. Walter C. Murphy, of Fourth street northwest, and her two daughters, Lorene and Ernestine, have returned to the city.
